

Marlon A. Hill is a partner in the Miami office of Hamilton, Miller & Birthisel, LLP. Mr. Hill is an experienced corporate, intellectual property and government lawyer of over 23 years. Mr. Hill serves as outside general corporate counsel to a number of entrepreneurs, corporations, sovereign governments and related agencies, and not-for-profit organizations, especially in the tourism, hospitality, and media/entertainment industries.

Mr. Hill is one of the Inaugural Fellows in the Miami Foundation's Miami Fellows Initiative; Mr. Hill is a past president of the Caribbean Bar Association (2001-2003), former Jamaican Diaspora Advisory Board Member for the Southern United States (2006-2011), and member of the board of directors of the Miami Parking Authority, Miami Book Fair International, Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce, and the Orange Bowl Committee. Mr. Hill is a weekly commentator on "The Peoples Politics", Caribbean Riddims, WZAB 880AM, every Saturday at 4 pm, an op-ed writer for the Miami Herald Florida Influencers and Sun-Sentinel SF100 series covering public affairs and legal issues, and a recurring contributor to WPLG Local 10 "This Week in South Florida" Roundtable. Follow him on Twitter @ <http://hamiltonmillerlaw.com>